FAQs

What is the best time to visit?

East Africa offers incredible wildlife encounters year-round, with no "off-season" for game viewing. While July to September is famous for the dramatic river crossings of the Great Migration, the rest of the year brings its own magic—lush green landscapes after the short rains of April-May and November-December, abundant predator activity, and fewer crowds for a more intimate safari experience.

The region's diverse wildlife, from big cats to elephants and rhinos, remains present regardless of the season, making any time an excellent choice for an amazing safari adventure.

How do I apply for VISA?

You can easily apply for your visa online, with a maximum validity of 90 days. The process is straightforward, and there's no need to submit your original passport. Most applications are processed within a week. For Kenya, the single-entry visa costs USD 32 per person, while for Tanzania, the fee is USD 50 per person.

What is the weather like in East Africa?

East Africa boasts a remarkably mild and pleasant climate year-round. Temperatures usually hover between 60°F and 80°F (16°C to 27°C), ensuring the region isn't too hot or too cold. While mornings and evenings may be a bit cool, packing a light sweater or woolen layer is a good idea. Daytime temperatures are comfortable, perfect for enjoying your safari without the discomfort of extreme heat.

Thanks to these moderate conditions, even the most luxurious safari lodges don't need air conditioning, as the natural climate provides a refreshing atmosphere. Whether you're visiting during the dry season or the lush green period, the weather remains ideal for wildlife viewing and outdoor exploration.

What currency should I carry and how much?

US dollars are widely accepted across Kenya and Tanzania, making them the most convenient currency to carry. You can use USD for visa payments on arrival, purchasing souvenirs, and tipping. When you book with us, most of your land expenses, including accommodations and meals, are already covered, so you won't need to worry about those costs during your trip.

Credit and debit cards are accepted in many hotels, shops, and supermarkets, with Visa and Mastercard being the most commonly used. However, American Express and Discover cards may not be as widely accepted. If you have additional expenses at your hotel, such as drinks or laundry services, you can settle the bill with either USD cash or a credit card. While cards work in most places, it's always advisable to carry some cash for small purchases, remote areas, or situations where card payments may not be possible.

What is the time zone in East Africa?

Kenya, Tanzania, Uganda, and Rwanda follow East Africa Time (EAT), which is GMT+3. This means they are 3 hours ahead of London, 8 hours ahead of New York, and 11 hours ahead of San Francisco. If you are traveling from Asia, Singapore is 5 hours ahead, Mumbai is 2.5 hours ahead, and Dubai is just 1 hour ahead of East Africa's time zone.

Is vegetarian or Indian food available?

Finding vegetarian, vegan, or Indian meals in East Africa is not an issue, especially at the high-end hotels and lodges we partner with. These hotels serve a variety of international cuisines, ensuring that vegetarian, vegan, and non-vegetarian options are readily available. If you follow a specific diet—whether it's gluten-free, low-salt, diabetic-friendly, or aligned with religious practices such as Jain, Kosher, or Halal—these can be arranged in advance. To avoid any inconvenience, please inform us of any dietary restrictions or preferences before your trip.
